REACH Declaration (EC) No. 1907/2006

Precoplat Präzisions-Leiterplatten-Technik GmbH, 47805 Krefeld, Germany, is a manufacturer of printed circuit boards within the meaning of REACH and is therefore a so-called "downstream user".

We require our material suppliers to regularly compare the products and product parts supplied to us with the candidate lists in accordance with the requirements of the REACH Regulation.

As soon as we are notified that our products are subject to information requirements, we will inform you of this without being asked and arrange for an entry to be made in the SCIP database, if necessary.

We assure you that, at the present time, none of the products we deliver contain more than 0.1% by weight of any substances on the current candidate list of 4 February 2026 in accordance with Article 59 of Regulation (EC) No. 1907/2006 (REACH).

Irrespective of this, we consistently monitor the implementation of REACH by our suppliers in our own interest and to ensure a high level of product safety.

We are in close communication with the manufacturers of the raw materials and operating supplies we use and will incorporate the pre-registration or subsequent registration of the relevant substances into our supplier qualification process.

The information in this declaration corresponds to our current knowledge and experience, as well as to information provided by third parties. We accept no liability or warranty for factors beyond our knowledge and control.
